

Maths
Challenge 1: Can you make your own number line using different objects collected from around the house or outdoor? e.g. number 6 six flowers. 	Challenge 2: Can you learn a new counting song? One little child sat up in a tree She looked out saying, 'Climb up here with me' Two little children sat up in a tree They looked out saying, 'Climb up here with me' Ask your child how many children are up in the tree? Let them use teddies or toys to help count if they need to.	Challenge 3: Can you roleplay your day using different times of the day? Can you tell people when it is dinner time, bedtime or even getting up? Have a go at playing, "What's the time Mr Wolf?"
Writing
Challenge 1: Can you draw the people in your family? Can you label your family members using your phonics knowledge? Can you add in your grandparents and write the initial sounds? Do you have any pets on your drawing? Mr Smith has a dog called Alfie and a guinea pig called Arna.	Challenge 2: Can you write some sounds or make marks with water? Outside, take a bowl of water and an old paintbrush. Dip your brush into the water. Can you draw some long lines, short lines, circles and dots? Ask an adult to write the first letter from your name. Can you trace over it? Can you write any letters from your name?	Challenge 3: Can you write a list of your favourite toys and then cut out the names and make labels for them? What sound can you hear? Can you form the letters correctly? Here is mine: Train.
Reading
Challenge 1: Go on a letter and sound hunt around your house. Which letters/sounds did you find? Where were they? Boxes, packaging letter or even clothing. Can you sound out this word and draw a picture of it?	Challenge 2: Share a story book with your grown up. Talk to them about the people (characters) in the story. With your grown-up change one of the characters names in the story. Maybe you could be a character? Read the story again using your own or other made up name for a character. This will make you laugh!	Challenge 3: Can you build yourself a reading den that you can read in? (Remember to be safe) Is it cosy? Which books will you share? Can you take a photo and share with us?
VE Day celebrations take place on 8 th May. Find out about VE day here and then try this VE Day activity.
Make some bunting to hang up in your home or garden. The colours red, white and blue from our Union Jack flag are often used but you can use any colours you like! Can you find some songs and music from the era of World War 2 and dance or sing along to these with your families?
Weekly Learning Challenge - Mister Maker.
Can you remember when we had a go at drawing a tree at Nursery? See if you can do it again. How do the trees look different now to how they were back in February?	Can you find an episode of Mr Maker to watch? He will be on Cbeebies iPlayer or Youtube. Maybe you could try one of the activities that he shows you.	Can you get creative? Go outside and make a picture using nature! Can you collect leaves, grass, stones etc from your garden and use these to make a collage or picture? Send a photo of your masterpiece to your teacher!

Relaxing time: Can you go outside and listen carefully?
What can you hear? Can you find something that is "living" around you? What is it?